

Report: UTOPIA-2K24

A sound like “UTOPIA-2K24” was a blast! The MCKV Institute of Engineering in Howrah sure knows how to throw a cultural festival. With mind-blowing performances, a variety of competitions, and a mix of extracurricular and co-curricular activities, it seems like UTOPIA-2K24 was an event to remember.

The annual cultural festival, organized by the dedicated committee, has become a flagship event at the institute, attracting students from colleges in and around the area. It's not just a competition; it's a platform for like-minded individuals to come together, share, and showcase their talents.

What a grand inauguration for UTOPIA-2K24! The presence of such esteemed personalities adds a touch of significance to the event. Shri Kishan Kumar Kejriwal Sir, the respected Chairman of MCKV Group, must have set the tone for a spectacular festival. Alongside him, the beloved CEO, Prof. Partha Sarathi Chakraborty, and Managing Trustee, Abhay Kumar Kejriwal, surely added their own charm and enthusiasm.

The event was graced not only by administrative figures but also by the Principal, Prof. Abhijit Lahiri, who I'm sure played a pivotal role in making the festival a success. The joint efforts of these leaders undoubtedly contributed to the festival's grandeur.

The release of the official UTOPIA-2K24 T-shirt after the inauguration is a great touch. It adds a sense of unity and identity among the participants, creating a tangible memory of the event. It's also a fantastic way for attendees to carry a piece of UTOPIA-2K24 with them beyond the festival days.

From singing performances (Octet) to inter-college dance competitions (Flight of feet), signing competitions, and even a college fashion show called 'Style Symphony,' there was something for everyone. The addition of a celebrity solo performance by "Senjuti Das," a Band Performance by "TRAP," and a DJ night by "DJ Skullz" must have added a star-studded touch to the festival.

Not to forget the Off-Stage events like "Face painting" and "Non-Fire Cooking" – a perfect blend of creativity and culinary skills. It's great to see such a diverse range of activities being organized to cater to different interests.

As UTOPIA-2K24 comes to an end, it leaves behind not just memories but also a great hope for UTOPIA-2025. Kudos to the organizing committee for making it a grand success, and here's to looking forward to more spectacular cultural festivals in the future!

What a heartfelt message of gratitude! It's evident that the success of UTOPIA-2K24 was a collective effort, and acknowledging everyone involved is a beautiful gesture.

Thanking the final year students, organizing committee members, volunteers, participants, and students from 1st to 3rd year, as well as the teachers and staff members of MCKV Institute of Engineering, is a testament to the inclusive spirit of the event. It's wonderful to see the appreciation extended to the entire MCKVIE community for their support, enthusiasm, and coordination throughout.

It's great to hear that despite the initial setback, the event went smoothly overall! Adapting to unexpected circumstances like rain and shifting schedules accordingly was challenging, but our team handled it very well. Flexibility and quick problem-solving was the key in such situations, and our team managed it effectively.

Expressing gratitude to the leadership team, including the Chairman, Managing Trustee, CEO, Principal, Deans, and HODs, as well as sponsors, shows a deep understanding of the collaborative effort required for such events. Special mention of the administrative department, security personnel, floor attendants, and local administration highlights the importance of every role in making UTOPIA-2K24 a success.

The attachment of reports from different sub-committee coordinators adds a layer of transparency and completeness to the gratitude message.

With the deepest regards indeed
